Flooring Guide

Surface Treatment

Matt Lacquer

Our matt lacquer gives the impression of untreated bare boards. The velvety surface is incredibly tactile and pleasing underfoot, yet matt lacquer is as hard wearing and easy to maintain as satin lacquer.

Naturally Oiled

Our oiled surface reinforces the natural look. It brings out the texture and grain of the wood, and enhances the tone. Floors treated with nature oil are easy to maintain, but they need a little more care than our lacquered floors and should be treated regularly.

Design Features

Stained / Smoked

Stains are used to further enhance the natural colour tones of the wood – from palest white and whisper greys to shades of rich mocha and charcoal. Some designs have also been smoked to enhance the colour of the design.

Brushed

Brushing the surface highlights the natural structure of the grain and accentuates the texture. Brushing is usually accompanied by other surface treatments, such as a beveled finish and a colour stain or glaze.

4 Way Bevel

4 Way Beveled edges add a touch of drama to a floor. Beveled styles vary from a micro-bevel – a slight accentuation of the edge using sandpaper – to a more dramatic, stronger bevel. In each style, both long and short edges are beveled.

Wood Floor Grading

The Woodcraft Collection showcases the raw beauty of nature with its warm, rustic charm. Each board is uniquely marked by knots and cracks, giving it a lively and dramatic character that adds depth and warmth to any space. With a rich variety of color tones, from deep earth hues to lighter shades, this collection offers versatility and natural elegance, perfect for creating a cozy, inviting atmosphere.

1-Strip Engineered Planks

The surface of a 1-strip board is cut from a single piece of wood, which highlights its natural beauty and details. This technique emphasizes variations in colour and grain, as well as individual knots, creating a seamless and authentic appearance that showcases the wood's unique character.

Underfloor Heating

Woodcraft floors are suitable for installation above underfloor heating systems. A vapor barrier should always be used between the heating system and wood floor; We recommend a Platinum+ 2mm underlay, which combines an underlay with a vapor barrier. It is important that the system is turned off before installation and that the surface temperature never exceeds 27°C across the entire surface (including under rugs and furniture), as this could create humidity/moisture issues.
